

ERBE ELEKTROMEDIZIN GMBH

Quality policy

We provide our users with surgical systems that they can truly rely on as we continuously develop our methods and processes further. Our products are subject to continuous testing at above-average loads.

The result is quality which embraces our products across development, purchasing, production and logistics. This lends our products and internal procedures the highest levels of reliability and quality standards along their lifecycles.

Our excellent service maintains this quality level during service life.

This quality and the superior benefits offered by our products guarantee safety during surgery.